

Lawrence Berkeley
National Laboratory

Environment, Health, & Safety
Training Program

EOC0012
Consequence Assessment Team Training

COURSE SYLLABUS

Subject Category: Emergency Operations	Schedule: N/A (online)
Course Length: Approximately 1 hour	Medical Approval: None
Delivery Method: Online - offered through the Emergency Operations Training Academy (EOTA) http://eota.doeal.gov/	Location: N/A (online)
Course Prerequisite: None	Retraining/Recertification: Annually recommended

Course Purpose: Designed as an orientation for members of the Emergency Operations Center (EOC) Consequence Assessment team who would be called upon to provide Hazard and Consequence and Meteorological data to assist in planning and response efforts.

Course Objectives:

The goal of this training is to serve as an orientation to consequence assessment. Students will identify the objectives and phases of Consequence Assessment, as well as the roles of members on a Consequence Assessment team, and basic tasks in Consequence Assessment

Training Compliance Requirement: DOE 151.1c, 5a (1)

Course Instructional Materials: Online training

Participant Evaluation: Evaluation Form must be completed to receive certificate.

Written or Practical Exam: Successful completion of a multiple choice examination is required to receive a certificate. In order to receive LBNL credit, you must email your certificate to aeboynton@lbl.gov.

Web Instructions:

1. Register as a user on the EOTA website: <http://eota.doeal.gov/>
2. Once registered, go to "Add a course" and then "EOTA Web Based Training. "The course is ECA-101DW: Consequence Assessment Overview.
3. This course will take about an hour to complete. Please be aware that there is an exam at the end of the course. In order to receive your certificate, you must complete a course evaluation and you must email your certificate to aeboynton@lbl.gov.